

DAC Named in Top 50 Best Places to Work

April 30, 2009

ARLINGTON, VA – April 30, 2009– DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation (DAC) and the Washington Business Journal are pleased to announce that DAC has been named as one of the Top 50 Best Places to Work in Greater Washington.

Headquartered in Arlington, Virginia DAC is an employee-owned, System Engineering Company specializing in providing analytical solutions to complex problems. Founded in 1996, DAC's core ideology is to bring together highly motivated individuals to form an organization that provides superior, innovative technical contributions to all endeavors in which it participates. Customers include various DoD agencies, other Government agencies and commercial businesses with requirements for affordable, effective systems solutions. Customers turn to DAC to solve their most difficult problems.

To compete for the award, 70% of employees were surveyed by an outside survey company – Quantum Workplace – on their personal experience with DAC. Topics covered in the survey ranged from company benefits, company culture, to respect for and trust in one's bosses and coworkers.

According to the Washington Business Journal, "This year's competition was steep. Some companies who ranked in the 90% percentile did not even make the cut, which just goes to show how great the companies are in our region."

DAC President John Donnellon says there are many keys to DAC's success. "There has to be solid strategic planning, and that should start when you're assembling your business team. We employ people for the long-term and make it a priority to build a creative, collaborative atmosphere."

"We are honored to be recognized as one of the 50 Best Places to Work in Washington," said Ashley Zais, Chief of Corporate Communications. "It points out what a great company we have." At DAC, success is attributed to their team of talented, motivated, and literally invested employee-owners. "Because we all own stock in the company, we work hard to see it succeed and are, in turn, rewarded by the fruits of our labor," Zais says.

About the Washington Business Journal:

The Washington Business Journal is owned and operated by American City Business Journals, the nation's largest publisher of metropolitan business newspapers. The Washington Business Journal has been Greater Washington's leading source of business news and information for more than 20 years, providing over 150,000 business executives with comprehensive news on local people and their companies, as well as industry trends, tips and strategies and award-winning critical analysis. For more information, please visit <http://washington.bizjournals.com>.

About DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation:

Founded in 1996, DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation (DAC) is an employee-owned, Systems Engineering company headquartered in Arlington, VA. DAC delivers industry-leading products and services to commercial businesses, the Department of Defense, the Intelligence Community, and a wide range of other government agencies. DAC is consistently ranked among the 50 Fastest Growing Technology firms in Virginia, and the 500 Fastest Growing Companies in North America. DAC also has offices in Colorado Springs, CO, Huntsville, AL, Sellersburg, IN, Columbia, MD, and Richland, WA. For more information, please visit www.dac.us.

POC:

Ashley Zais
Chief of Corporate Communications
DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation
1235 S Clark St. Ste 400 - Arlington, VA 22202
Ph. 703-414-5022 Fx. 703-414-5099
ashley.zais@dac.us